

PROFESSIONAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY HEALTHCARE ADMINISTRATORS INFORMATION AND PRIVACY MAUNUAL

as prescribed in terms of the

PROMOTION OF ACCESS TO INFORMATION ACT 2 OF 2000 AND PROTECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION ACT 4 OF 2013

1 Introduction

Section 32 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, No. 108 of 1996 ("the Constitution") provides:

(1) Everyone has the right of access to –

Any information held by the state; and

Any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights.

(2) National legislation must be enacted to give effect to this right and may provide for reasonable measures to alleviate the administrative and financial burden on the state.

Section 32 of the Constitution affords everyone the right to access information held by the State or any other person. The Constitution requires that national legislation be enacted to give effect to this right. The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2 of 2000 (PAIA), gives effect to this constitutional right of access as required in terms of sub-section (2).

PAIA provides that a person must be given access to any record of a private body if the record is required for the exercise of any right¹ and the procedural requirements relating to a request have been complied with. PAIA applies to any recorded information, regardless of form or medium, under the control of the private body, and whether or not the private body created it.

¹After PPSHA has satisfied itself that the requester is seeking to exercise or protect a right and not an interest, PPSHA is then required to ascertain whether the information requested will assist the requester in exercising or protecting the right. The requester is therefore required to establish a nexus, or causal link between the right alleged and the information requested. It does not follow from the mere establishment of the right by the requester that he is automatically entitled to the information requested. The requester must establish that the information sought will assist him in exercising or protecting his right.

Where a request is made in terms of PAIA, the private or public body to which the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where PAIA expressly provides that the information must not be released. PAIA sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to such request.

PPSHA Healthcare Administrators (PPSHA) has confirmed its status as a private body in terms of the definition in PAIA as well as a responsible party in terms of the definition in the Protection of Personal Information Act, 4 of 2013 (POPIA).

PPSHA respects and values data privacy rights and ensures that all personal data collected from you is processed in adherence to the general principles of transparency, legitimate purpose, and proportionality.

“Responsible Party” means a public or private body or any other person which, alone or in conjunction with others determines the purpose of and means for processing personal information;

“Record” means any recorded information regardless of the form, including, for example, written documents, video materials etc. A record requested from a public or private body would refer to a record that was in that body’s possession regardless of whether that body created the record;

“Request Fee” means the cost to be paid for making an access to information request;

“Requester” means the natural or juristic person making an access to information request. A requester also refers to the person who is making the information request on behalf of somebody else;

“Request for Access” in relation to a private body, means a request for access to a record of a private body in terms of section 50 of PAIA; and

“Third Party” refers to any natural or juristic person who is not the requester of the information, nor PPSHA to whom the information request is made.

Capitalised terms used in this Manual have the meanings ascribed thereto in section 1 of POPIA and section 1 of PAIA as the context specifically requires, unless otherwise defined herein.

3 Purpose

The purpose of the Manual is to provide an outline of the types of records held by PPSHA, inform you of our data protection and security measures, serve as a guide in exercising rights in terms of POPIA and explain how one may submit requests for access to these records in terms of PAIA. POPIA and PAIA give effect to everyone’s constitutional rights to privacy and access to information held by private sector bodies (e.g. companies) or public bodies (i.e. Government institutions) that is required for the exercise and/or protection of the requester’s rights.

This Manual will also assist you to-

- know the description of the records of PPSHA which are available in accordance with any other legislation;
- access all the relevant contact details of the Information Officer/s and Deputy Information Officer/s who will assist you with the records you intend to access;

- know if PPSHA will process personal information, the purpose of processing of personal information and the description of the categories of data subjects and of the information or categories of information relating thereto;
 - know if PPSHA has planned to transfer or process personal information outside the Republic of South Africa and the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal information may be supplied; and
 - know whether PPSHA has appropriate security measures to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of the personal information which is to be processed.

5 A guide on how to access information via PAIA

The Regulator has, in terms of section 10(1) of PAIA, as amended, updated and made available the revised Guide on how to use PAIA ("Guide"), in an easily comprehensible form and manner, as may reasonably be required by a person who wishes to exercise any right contemplated in PAIA and POPIA.

The aforesaid Guide contains the description of, among others,

- the objects of PAIA and POPIA;
- the manner and form of a request for access to a record of a private body;
- the assistance available from the Regulator in terms of PAIA and POPIA;
- the postal and street address, phone and electronic mail address of the Information Officer

- all remedies in law available regarding an act or failure to act in respect of a right or duty conferred or imposed by PAIA and POPIA, including the manner of lodging-
 - an internal appeal;
 - a complaint to the Regulator; and
 - an application with a court against a decision by the information officer of a public body, a decision on internal appeal or a decision by the Regulator or a decision of the head of a private body;
- the provisions requiring a public body and private body, respectively, to compile a manual, and how to obtain access to a manual;
- the provisions for the voluntary disclosure of categories of records by a public body and private body, respectively;
- the notices issued regarding fees to be paid in relation to requests for access; and
- the regulations made in terms of section 92.

6 Records available in terms of other legislation

Certain legislation mandates PPSHA to allow any person access to specified information, upon request, irrespective of who that person may be. Access to information may be granted in terms of such other legislation if the manner of request is not more onerous than a request under PAIA and POPIA.

This would include the following legislation, amongst others:

1. Companies Act 71 of 2008;
2. Medical Schemes Act
3. Prevention of Organised Crime Act 121 of 1998;
4. Financial Intelligence Centre Act 38 of 2001;
5. Value-Added Tax Act 89 of 1991;
6. Income Tax Act 58 of 1962;
7. Magistrates Court Act 32 of 1944;
8. High Court Act 59 of 1959;
9. Usury Act 73 of 1968;
10. Insolvency Act 24 of 1936;
11. The Labour Relations Act 66 of 1995;
12. The Employment Equity 55 of 1998;
13. The Basic Conditions of Employment Act 75 of 1997;
14. Competition Act 89 of 1998;
15. Constitution of South Africa 108 of 1996;
16. Unemployment Insurance Act 63 of 2001;
17. Compensation for Occupational Injuries and diseases Act 130 of 1993;
18. Skills Development Levies Act 9 of 1999.
19. Pension Funds Act 24 of 1956

Granting/declining of information:

Within 30 days (normal calendar days) after receipt of a request, PPSHA will advise the requester whether the request has been granted or declined. If declined, reasons will be given. Furthermore, if the record pertains to a third party, the Act requires PPSHA to notify the third party of the request and be given an opportunity to either consent to the release or make representations in favour of or declining the request. A dissatisfied requester or third party is entitled to an appeal process by way of application to court.

8 Compulsory declining of requests for information

A request for a record must be declined to protect:

- The privacy of a third party;
- Commercial information of a third party;
- Confidential information of a third party;
- The safety of individuals and the protection of property;
- Records privileged from production in legal proceedings;
- Research information of a third party.

Discretionary declining of requests:

A request may be refused to protect the commercial or research information of PPSHA.

9 Request procedure

Details of submitting a formal request:

1. Submit Request Form (Annexure A) for the attention of the appropriate Information Officer to the address, electronic mail address provided in this Manual.
2. Ensure that the right you wish to protect, or exercise is fully described in the Request Form.
3. If a request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must then submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request.
4. The Information Officer will assess the request and advise the requestor within 30 calendar days of the decision made.
5. The information, if granted, will be supplied to the requester in a format applicable to the request. If declined the requestor will be notified in writing and will be provided with the reasons for the decision.
6. If you have any questions about our use of your Personal Information you can contact the appropriate Information Officer of PPSHA in accordance with the contact details provided in this Manual.

From who do we collect the personal information and when will we process it?

We will only process your personal information for lawful purposes relating to our business if the following circumstances apply:

- You have consented thereto;
- A person legally authorised by you, the law or a court, has consented thereto;
- It is necessary to conclude or perform under a contract we have with you;
- The law requires or permits it;
- It is required to protect or pursue your, our or a third party’s legitimate interest; and/or
- You are a child, and a competent person (such as a parent or guardian) has consented thereto on your behalf.

When will we process your special personal information?

We may process your special personal information in the following circumstances:

- If you have consented to the processing;
- If the processing is needed to create, use or protect a right or obligation in law;
- If the processing is for statistical or research purposes, and all legal conditions are met;
- If the special personal information was made public by you;
- If the processing is required by law;

- If racial information is processed and the processing is required to identify you; and/or
- If health information is processed, and the processing is to determine your insurance risk, or to comply with an insurance policy, or to enforce an insurance right or obligation.

When and how we will process the personal information of children

A child is a person who is defined as a child by a country's legislation, and who has not been recognised as an adult by the courts, in South Africa it is a person under 18 years. We process the personal information of children if the law permits this. We will only process the personal information of children if any one or more of the following applies:

- A person with the ability to sign legal agreements has consented to the processing, being the parent or guardian of the child;
- The processing is needed to create, use or protect a right or obligation in law, such as where the child is an heir in a will, a beneficiary of a trust, a beneficiary of an insurance policy or an insured person in terms of an insurance policy;
- The child's personal information was made public by the child, with the consent of a person who can sign legal agreements;
- The processing is for statistical or research purposes and all legal conditions are met;
- Where the child is an heir in a will, if required to give effect to the will;
- Where the child is a beneficiary of a trust, if required to give effect to the trust deed;
- Where the child is legally old enough to sign a document as a witness without the assistance from their parent or guardian;
- Where the child benefits from a bank account such as an investment or savings account; and/or
- Where the child is an insured person or beneficiary of an insurance policy, if required to give effect to the policy.

How we process information about persons related to a juristic person

If you are a juristic person, such as a company or close corporation, we may collect and use personal information relating to the juristic person's directors, officers, employees, beneficial owners, partners, shareholders, members, authorised signatories, representatives, agents, payers, payees, customers, guarantors, spouses of guarantors, sureties, spouses of sureties, other security providers and other persons related to the juristic person. These are related persons.

If you provide the personal information of a related person to us, you warrant that the related person is aware that you are sharing their personal information with us, and that the related person has consented thereto. We will process the personal information of related persons as stated in this Manual.

Personal information of other individuals

If you provide personal information to PPSHA regarding other individuals, you agree to:

- Inform the individual about the content of this Manual; and
- Obtain any legally required consent for the collection, use, disclosure, and transfer (including cross-border transfer) of personal information about the individual in accordance with this Manual.

Reasons we need to process your personal information

There are various laws that permit the processing of personal information such as South African Defence Act Regulations and POPIA. Other personal information may be collected and processed if it is required in the circumstances. We generally process your personal information for the following purposes:

- to verify the accuracy, correctness and completeness of any information provided to the Fund and Administrator in the course of processing an application for membership or providing services related to the membership;
- for the administration of your medical aid;
- for the provision of managed care services to you on your medical aid;
- for the provision of relevant information to a contracted third party who requires this information in order to provide a healthcare service to you on your medical aid;
- to profile and analyse risk;
- to share your personal information with external health providers for them to assess or evaluate certain clinical information, in the event that you are subject to such a clinical assessment; and
- market, statistical and academic research.

Security

We will take appropriate and reasonable technical, physical, legal and organisational measures, which are consistent with applicable privacy and data security laws. This includes the following:

- Keeping our systems secure (such as monitoring access and usage);
- Storing our records securely;
- Controlling the access to our buildings, systems and/or records; and
- Safely destroying or deleting records.

Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet or data storage system can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. If you have reason to believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure (for example, if you feel that the security of any personal information you might have with us has been compromised), please immediately notify us at PAIA@ppsha.co.za.

When we provide personal information to a service provider, the service provider will be selected carefully and required to use appropriate measures to protect the confidentiality and security of the Personal information.

International (cross border) transfer of personal information

Due to the nature of business activities, for the purposes set out above, we may transfer Personal information to parties located in other countries with a different data protection regime than in the country where you are based. We may transfer information internationally to our group companies, service providers, business partners and governmental or public authorities only for this purpose.

11 Fees

A requester who seeks access to a record containing personal information about that requester is not required to pay the request fee. Every other requester, who is not a personal requester, must pay the required request fee:

- The head of the private body must notify the requester (other than a personal requester) by notice, requiring the requester to pay the prescribed fee (if any) before further processing the request [section 54(1)].
- The fees (if any) that the requester must pay to a private body will depend on the format of the information being requested (The requester may lodge an internal appeal or an application to the court against the tender or payment of the request fee [section 54(3)(b)]. For a complete fee schedule, please visit the Information Regulator at www.justice.gov.za/infoereg/.
- After the head of the private body has decided on the request, the requester must be notified in the required form.

If the request is granted, then a further access fee must be paid for the search, reproduction, preparation, and any time that has exceeded the prescribed hours to search and prepare the record for disclosure [section 54(6)].
